

Did you know that angels are everywhere?

Experience a world of gentle wonder, beauty, and comfort in this lyrical and non-denominational picture book. With its rich yet delicate paintings, it invites everyone into a magical place of love and caring.

Award-winning author, Alexis York Lumbard, and world-renowned artist, Flavia, transport the reader on a journey to see how angels work behind the scenes weaving their graces throughout the world.

Publication Details:

- ★ ISBN: 978-1-937786-15-1
- ★ Pub Date: October 2013
- ★ Price: $14.95
- ★ Trim Size: 8x7
- ★ Page Count: 28 casebound
- ★ Age Group: 2 and up

“Angels, angels always near, protecting you my special dear!”

Sample Spreads

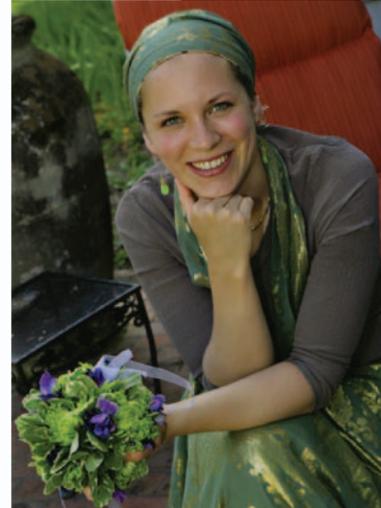

Sample Spreads

Sample Spreads

About the Author and Illustrator

Alexis York Lumbard is a storyteller and children's book author who is currently working on three children's books which are all scheduled for publication. Her first book, The Conference of the Birds (illustrated by Demi) was released in 2012 to much critical acclaim. Her third book, Everyone Prays is scheduled for release in 2014. Having noticed a lamentable absence of high quality books of spiritual substance for the earliest of readers, she began writing her own stories since becoming a mother in 2005. With a B.A. in Religious Studies from George Washington University, it is her sincere hope to bring the wisdom and beauty of the world's religions to the eager and gifted minds of young children. Alexis, her husband, and three children live in Natick, MA.

Flavia Weedn is a prolific award-winning artist and illustrator. She has written and illustrated 17 books, including 10 for children, and her lines of greeting cards, translated into many different languages, are sent by over 18 million people each year. Flavia's original paintings have sold the world over to fine art collectors and can be found in the Smithsonian Institute archives, the AT&T Collection, and numerous private exhibits. Her work as a commercial illustrator has been reproduced on magazine covers, national advertising and non-profit promotions, and hundreds of fine paper products and collectible gifts in the United States, Canada, throughout Europe, Australia, and Japan. Her books are used in school systems and self-esteem programs throughout the world. Public acclaim has brought her editorial coverage in publications such as Newsweek, People, and Glamour, and in newspapers such as The Wall Street Journal, The Chicago Tribune, and The Los Angeles Times. She is also one of the chosen authors to include her work in the National Literacy Campaign introduced by Barbara Bush. Flavia Weedn's art deals with the simplicity and the beauty she sees in the ordinary things in life. The illustrations in Angels were selected by her son, Rick Weedn. She lives in Santa Barbara, CA with her son.

Wisdom Tales
Stories from Around the World

Praise for Alexis, Flavia & Angels

“[Flavia’s] soothing pastel watercolors are a source of real comfort.”

—People Magazine

“You [Alexis] have made a wonderful contribution to the world of children’s literature. . . . Please, keep up the good work!”

—Tomie dePaola, author of Strega Nona

“[Flavia’s books] are graphically appealing and chock-full of her signature wisdom and inspiration.”

—The Chicago Tribune

“I congratulate Alexis York Lumbard. Being the mother of three children, she has direct experience with the developmental and spiritual needs of the young. [Her] precious work enables the young to enter a world of truth and beauty that is denied to them in so much that they read and see today.”

—Seyyed Hossein Nasr, author of Knowledge and the Sacred

“Angels, angels fill the air, coming down from way up there.”