

Hearing stories of Krishna's great powers made King Kamsa more fearful than ever.

He decided to send his crane demon to eat young Krishna as he was herding cows.

The bird snapped Krishna into its beak, and was ready to swallow him. But Krishna magically caused his body to become hot. This forced the crane demon to spit him out.

Then Krishna broke the crane's beak, defeating the evil bird. 