

Day 2

Listener made the raft and braided the rope, and while he worked Otter Woman came to see him. She had heard of the Great Flood.

Otter Woman asked Listener, “What are you doing?”

“I am doing what Spotted Frog told me to do. I am preparing for the Great Flood.”

“I see no flood,” she said.

“The Great Flood will come. That is what Spotted Frog said.”

“There is not a cloud in the sky,” Otter Woman said.

“Don’t you believe me?” he asked.

“I want to believe you,” she said.

“But Honors Himself, the buffalo chief, says that nothing will happen. He says not to listen to you.”
After a time, she went away.
